[Going to the front door]

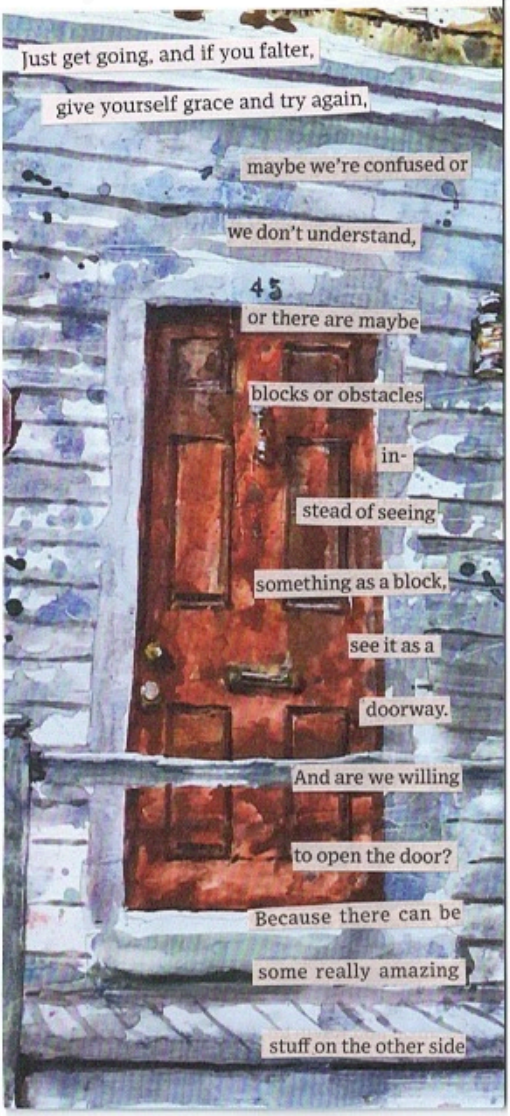
"Every step you make in the right direction is important."



Just get going, and if you falter,
give yourself grace and try again,
maybe we're confused or
we don't understand,
45
or there are maybe
blocks or obstacles
instead of seeing
something as a block,
see it as a
doorway.
And are we willing
to open the door?
Because there can be
some really amazing
stuff on the other side

I'm always for peace—
[Pause]

She leaned against the doorjamb
[Going to the door]
opens the door.
Some-
times you open
the wrong door
and find yourself
in the right place. □

[Preparing to exit through front door]
Not surprisingly,
I want a new security door,
That is what we need.
You know when you have to introduce yourself in somebody's house?
they're
like . . .
[At the door]
somebody walks in my house and they're like,
opening the front door!
We as a society are really uncomfortable holding the people we love accountable for
harm, so
[He exits through front door]

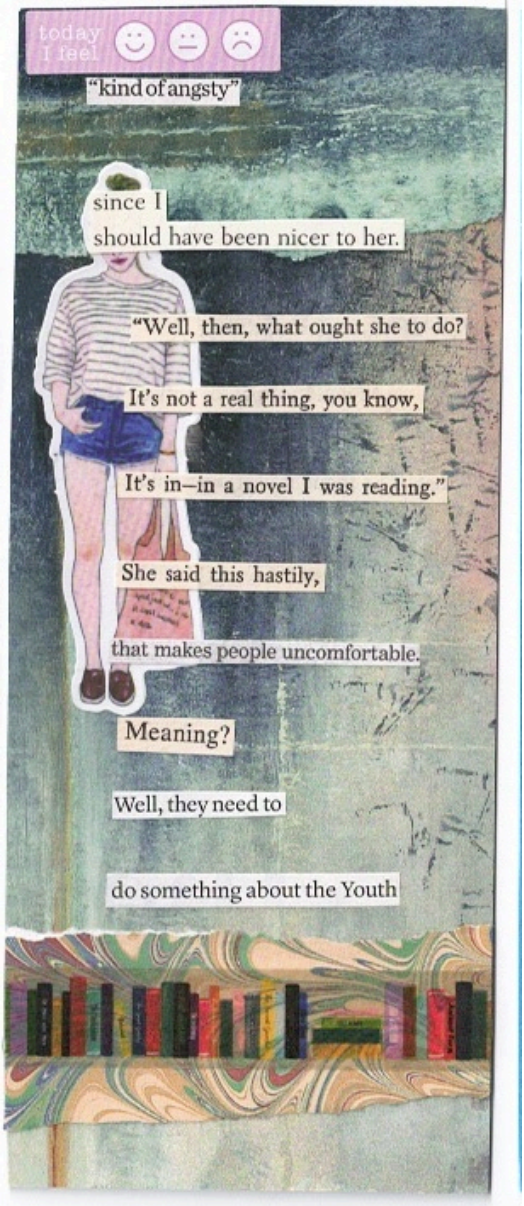
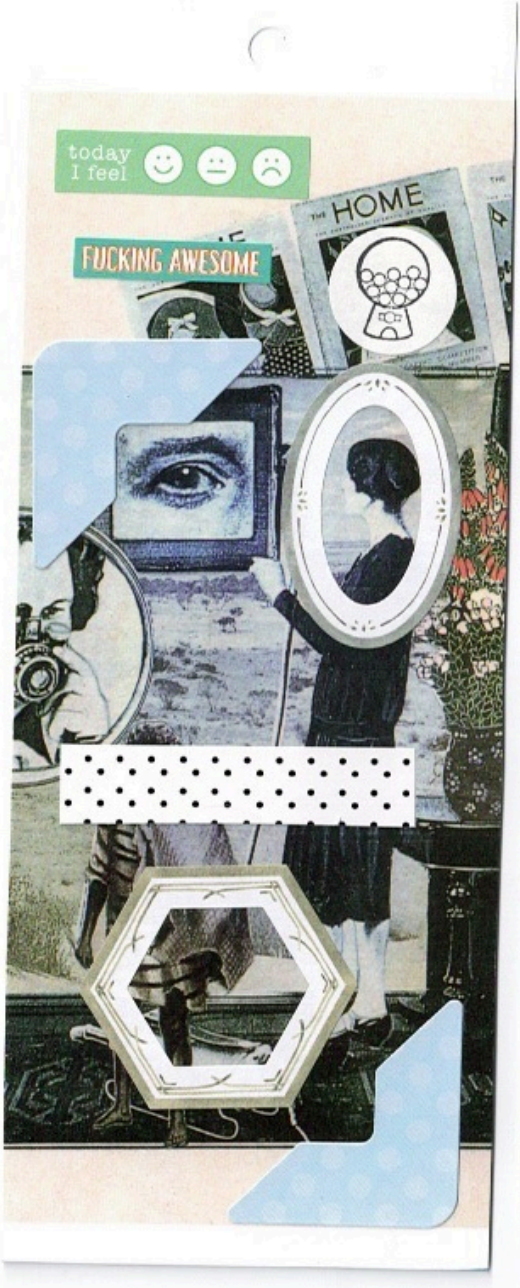
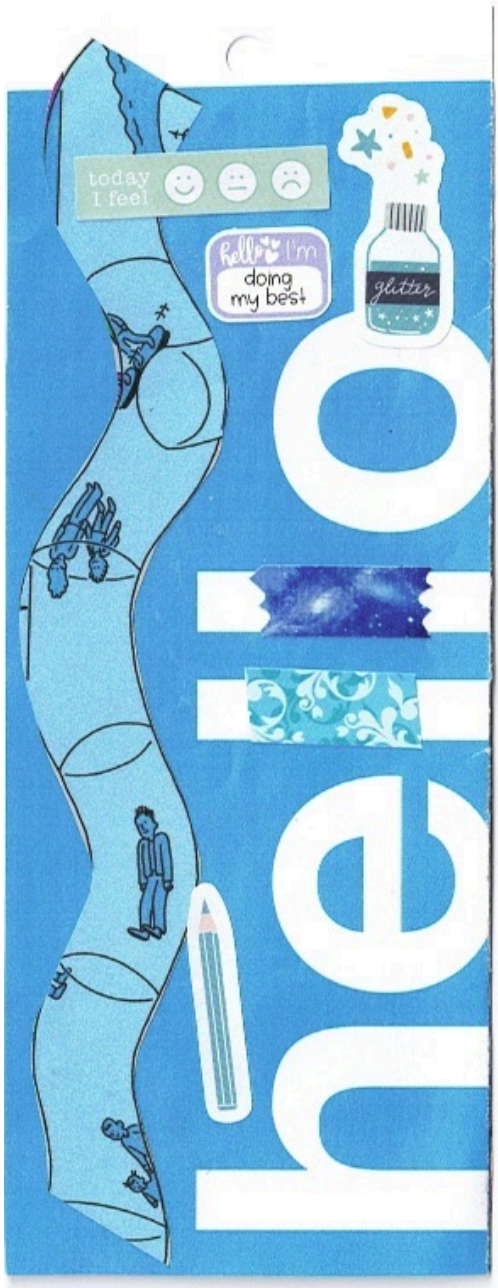
Nobody could ever live anything down.



today I feel
"kind of angsty"
since I
should have been nicer to her.
"Well, then, what ought she to do?
It's not a real thing, you know,
It's in—in a novel I was reading."
She said this hastily,
that makes people uncomfortable.
Meaning?
Well, they need to
do something about the Youth



today
I feel
FUCKING AWESOME
HOME



today
I feel
hello I'm doing
my best
glitter
hello

Barn's burnt down
Now
I can see the moon
